War with the Gauls ^{Rome}

These people were living beyond the Alps, who invaded Italy and at the BATTLE OF ALLIA (390 B.C.) completely defeated the Romans, plundering and burning Rome. They besieged the Capitol in Rome seven months and then were induced to raise the siege upon receipt of a large sum of gold. The Romans returned and which their city made CAMILLUS.

It also moved the city from its old enemies - The Volscians, AEQUANS, etc.; who now again attacked the city thinking to capture it in its weakened state.

Afterwards, Rome gradually increased its power northward and also made a Treaty with Cottage
